ANTI-BRIBERY AND ANTI-CORRUPTION POLICY

1. OBJECTIVE

This Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption (ABAC) Policy has been established to reaffirm our zero-tolerance approach towards bribery, corruption, illegal gratification, and any form of improper benefit. It underscores RiskMan Consulting's unwavering commitment to fostering a clean, transparent, and ethical business environment, thereby reinforcing the trust and confidence of all stakeholders.

The purpose of this policy is to:

- Promote a culture of ethics and accountability across all levels of the organization;
- Prevent any designated person from engaging in bribery or corrupt activities;
- Ensure that effective internal controls and compliance mechanisms are in place to identify, deter, and respond to bribery and corruption risks;
- Demonstrate RiskMan Consulting's leadership and responsibility as a fair and professional business entity.

This policy is an integral part of our governance framework and applies to all employees, partners, associate partners, contractors, and representatives of the organization by whatever names they may be called, ensuring that our business operations remain untainted by unethical practices.

2. SCOPE

This Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption (ABAC) Policy applies to all individuals associated with RiskMan Consulting, regardless of their role, designation, or location. The policy covers a wide range of stakeholders to ensure a consistent and comprehensive approach toward ethical conduct across all facets of the organization.

This includes, but is not limited to Partners and Associate Partners, Employees (whether full-time, part-time, fixed-term, temporary, contract, or project-based), Trainees and Interns and Third Parties associated with the Organisation, such as vendors and suppliers, contractors and sub-contractors, consultants and advisors, agents, representatives, and intermediaries, service providers or any other external agency acting for or on behalf of RiskMan Consulting.

This policy is applicable irrespective of geographic location and must be adhered to at all times, whether engaging in business domestically or internationally, in public or private sector dealings.

3. POLICY

At RiskMan Consulting, we maintain a zero-tolerance approach toward bribery and corruption in any form. Bribery and corruption are criminal offenses and are strictly prohibited under Indian law and international anti-corruption standards. This policy outlines the Company's position on what constitutes bribery, the forms it may take, and the standards of conduct expected from all designated persons.

- I. A bribe is any inducement, payment, reward, or advantage offered, promised, given, or received—directly or indirectly—to influence a decision or to gain an unfair commercial, contractual, regulatory, or personal advantage.

It is illegal and unethical:

- To offer, promise, give, or accept a bribe,
- To engage in bribery directly or indirectly through a third party,
- To offer any benefit to a public official (elected or appointed, administrative, legislative, or judicial) to influence any official act or decision.

Bribery may involve anything of value, not just cash. This can include:

- Gifts or hospitality
- Inside information
- Employment offers to relatives or close associates
- Payment or reimbursement of travel expenses
- Charitable donations or sponsorships
- Abuse of one's official position
- Political contributions intended to obtain influence

- II. Corruption is the abuse of entrusted power for private gain. It includes acts of dishonesty or misuse of authority that are illegitimate, immoral, or incompatible with ethical standards. Corruption is often associated with favouritism, nepotism, bribery, and misuse of office for personal or organizational benefit.

- III. RiskMan Consulting may make charitable contributions or undertake corporate social responsibility (CSR) activities to support humanitarian or social development causes. However: All such contributions must be made in good faith, without any intent to improperly influence business outcomes.

Donations must be aligned with the Company's internal policies and approved by all the Partners of RiskMan Consulting.

Contributions must be fully transparent, properly documented, and never made in exchange for a business favour or regulatory benefit, as this may be construed as bribery.

- IV. RiskMan Consulting does not permit political contributions—directly or indirectly—unless explicitly permitted by law and pre-approved by all the Partners.

Political contributions include:

- Financial donations to political parties or candidates
- Sponsorship of campaign events
- Loans or advances to political representatives
- "In-kind" support such as free services, materials, or use of facilities
- Payments made to influence election outcomes or regulatory decisions
- Such contributions, even if made with good intent, may create the appearance of impropriety or violate applicable anti-bribery laws and therefore must be strictly controlled or avoided.

- V. Facilitation payments are typically unofficial payments made to secure or expedite routine administrative actions by government or public officials (e.g., issuing permits, processing licenses, customs clearance).

RiskMan Consulting does not permit facilitation payments under any circumstances—whether made directly or indirectly—regardless of local customs or industry norms. Designated persons must never authorize or make such payments.

It is not acceptable for any designated persons to:

- a) Accept an offer of a gift of any size from any Third Party which is in negotiation with or is submitting a proposal with the Company.
- b) Give, promise to give or offer, any payment, gift, hospitality or advantage with the expectation or hope that a business advantage will be given or received or to reward a business advantage already given
- c) Give, promise to give or offer, any payment, gift or hospitality to a government official, agent or representative to “facilitate” or expedite a routine procedure.
- d) Accept or solicit any payment, advantage, gift or hospitality from a Third Party that you know or suspect is being offered with the expectation that it will obtain a business advantage for them.
- e) Threaten or retaliate against another employee who has refused to commit a bribery offence or who has raised concerns under this Policy.
- f) Engage in any activity that might lead to a breach of this Policy. The points stated above are illustrative in nature and in no way intended to limit the applicability of this Policy.

4. GIFTS, HOSPITALITY & ENTERTAINMENT UNDER THIS POLICY

This policy does not prohibit normal business hospitality, so long as it is reasonable, appropriate, modest, and bona fide corporate hospitality, and if its purpose is to improve company’s image, present Company’s products, and services, or establish cordial relations. Gifts, Hospitality & Entertainment must be:

- a) Legal under all applicable anti-corruption laws.
- b) Must be duly approved. Normal business hospitality must always be approved at the appropriate level of Company management.
- c) Not cash or a cash equivalent.
- d) Never given or accepted if any improper action is expected in return.
- e) Modest promotional gifts are permitted. RiskMan Consulting permits the acceptance of nominal gifts from business associates, especially during festivals or ceremonial occasions, provided they do not influence or appear to influence business decisions or create a sense of obligation. Gifts must be modest, culturally appropriate, and should not exceed ₹5,000 in value per giver per financial year without disclosure and approval. Cash, high-value items, services, or gifts intended to secure business advantages are strictly prohibited. All gifts over ₹5,000 must be declared in the Gift Register with details such as the recipient, giver, nature and value of the gift, and relevant approvals.
